

Service Delivery Philosophy

SECOH is committed to providing all clients with the highest quality of services delivered by a highly competent workforce. SECOH takes a person centered approach to service activity planning and implementation. SECOH welcomes client, family, and guardian feedback and involvement in services to ensure a well-rounded circle of support. If at any time SECOH is unable to meet the needs or wants of a client, SECOH supervisors are expected to consult with the support circle and the DOH Case Manager to seek alternate services that may not include SECOH but is in the best interest of the client.

Service Descriptions

As approved by the Department of Health - Waiver 2017 – 2021*

Adult Day Health (ADH): ADH is a group activity program that provides service recipients with a variety of center based activities. Activities focus on skill development, socialization, and social responsibility. SECOH offers ADH services through two different programs, which is referred to as Day Services and Pathways Skills Center. The difference between the two programs is the age of the service recipients. Specifically, Pathways Skill Center focuses on providing services for adults ages 18 – 35. The program supports the transition from school to adulthood focusing on developing life skills and identifying vocational potential.

Community Learning Services (CLS G): CLS G is integrated into ADH services. Individuals receive support to integrate and access community resources, increase safety awareness, develop social and communication skills, and gain experience that build independence and social responsibility.

Personal Assistance Habilitation (PAB): One to one services provided in the individual's own home or family home. Individuals receive support to develop, retain, and improve skills related to living in their home. Activities may include but not limited to daily living skills, light housework, meal preparation, and other instrumental daily activities.

Community Learning Services-Individual (CLS I): One to one services provided to individuals in community settings. Individuals receive support to integrate and access community resources, increase safety awareness, develop social and communication skills, and gain experience that build independence and social responsibility.

Residential Habilitation (ResHab): Oversight and monitoring of in home care services for individuals who reside in state licensed adult foster and care homes.

Respite: Temporary residential services on a short term basis.
